Gifts and tokens of appreciation are part of many people's lives, from the smallest child to the oldest grandparents. Finding the perfect gift for your loved ones can be rather difficult, as it is difficult to think of something that will really please them. This is why you should use some third-party software, like On This Day in History. This application enables you to generate your own greeting cards, thus being able to send an appropriate gift in a very easy manner. You can simply type the required values and select a printer, and the software will generate a card for you. The software does not require any advanced configuration, as it provides a very simple and user-friendly interface that allows you to quickly access and select the features. In addition to the available styles, you can also download additional content, such as extra emoticons or images. This application provides many event databases, thus being able to generate greeting cards for a wide range of occasions. There are more than 18 million events available, such as births, anniversaries, etc. You can preview the created card or directly send it to the printer. In addition, it is possible to save the printed greeting card as a PDF file before sending it. Note: This application will run on Windows 2000, Windows XP, Windows Vista, Windows 7, Windows 8/8.1 and Windows 10. Category: Tags: Reviews There are no reviews yet.
