My husband and I are members of Cross Church in Taylors, SC, and He is the lead pastor of this amazing church. My Blog List Sunday, September 25, 2016 I'm a very happy lady right now. Today at church, I was able to serve as a trial judge in an engagement ceremony. Our entire wedding team was there. The bride and groom came to us and had some fun stuff to do before the ceremony. Then, we split them up and had them go back and do some fun stuff with us. After that, the bride and groom each received a ring. Then, before lunch, they were married. It was amazing. Here's a video of my not-so-soon-to-be wife getting her ring on. I hope you love it. I love you, honey. Also, I think I'll be able to go to Cross Church when the doors open. I'd love to go again. I know who I'll be asking for prayers when I get there. The Lord really has been a comforter to me lately. I know He is good.Q: Get incorrect DataType value from Generic Type I have made a method to return an enum from generic type. The implementation works as expected but there is one issue. I get a DataType value that is not what I expected. The class structure is as follows: public class ControlLogTable { public int LogId { get; set; } public DateTime TimeStamp { get; set; } public string TableName { get; set; } public DataTypes Type { get; set; } } public class DataTypes { public int Id {
